

Discover Akumal

Cocodrile lagoon
Yal kú
Cenote X
Santa Cruz

The Cocodrile Lagoon walk is a great beginning to your adventure in Akumal. Here you will see the Flora and Fauna so important to our ecosystems. We next will snorkel in Yal Ku, a lagoon open to the sea fed by a cenote, bringing into our enjoyment both fresh water and salt water aquatic life. There are few small sea turtles that have lost their navigational senses, that live in this lagoon. Then to the jungle to experience some of the hidden cenotes including Cenote X and Santa Cruz. Lunch is served here.

Price $88.00 per person minimum 4.

Monkey Sanctuary

Xunan Ha The Jungle Place Dos Ojos

Xunan Ha, a small cenote, is fabulous for those who love that "swimming hole" crystal clear water effect. After a dip and a snack, we then proceed to the monkey sanctuary where in the later mornings we can even help to feed (under supervision) these precious animals. We top this day off with a final snorkel in Dos Ojos (two eyes) where you will see into the beginnings of cave systems. Lunch will be served here.

Price $108.00 per person minimum 4.

Ruins & Fauna

Xel Ha Ruins The Turtles of Akumal Aktun Chen

We will start this adventure day with a snorkel amongst the turtles of Akumal. We will see the adult loggerhead, green, and hawksbill sea turtles, eating sea grass in the bay, just feet below you, so bring a waterproof camera, if you can (these are available at the office). The ruins of Xel Ha is off the beaten ruin group with actually a lot of history. There are 2 cenote freshwater pools within the Xel-ha archaeological site. The larger of the two is toward the western edge of the ruins and has interesting ruin structures right next to it. This area is easily accessible via paths through the site. Here we will have our lunch. Our final stop of the day is a great one with Ak Tun Chen dry cave, where there will be 45 minute tour of cave history. This dry cave also has some local animals on display.

Price $89.00 per person minimum 4.

The Coba Experience

If you come with us to the Coba ruins, you will experience the best of this ruin. We start the trip off with a quick swim at Cenote Cho Ha. Next the Coba lagoon where you will see the local fauna. Then the best, the ruins of course, where we will have our lunch, and then shopping at some local areas on the drive home.

Price $99.00 per person minimum 4.
